Racine Zoo & Eco-Cell

Reuse is the best form of recycling, but when you no longer have use for your phone, or it becomes obsolete, recycling it is the next best thing! The Racine Zoo is launching a cell phone recycling program in partnership with Eco-Cell.

Why recycle?

Recycling your phone in a safe manner keeps waste out of landfills and allows for reuse, reducing the demand for materials that are mined in critical habitats. Coltan is an ore found in compact electronics that is mined in Africa, threatening the several thousands of animals and plants living there.
